TECHNOLOGY IN SAFETY

Drones (UAVs) systems can be used to inspect remote site for hazardous conditions or unstable structures w Drones (UAVs) systems can be used to inspect remote site for hazardous conditions or unstable structures without placing workers at risk. This is especially true for awkward or difficult-to-reach locations such as tall structures, very big oil tanks on and under bridge and along busy roads.

Roles of Drones in Construction

In addition to remote safety inspections, UAVs are being used many other tasks in the construction industry:

- Monitor the progress of construction work and jobsite logistics without disrupting ongoing work.
- Access and determine the integrity of structure.
- Identify problems before they develop through the use of maintenance assessments
- Facilitate communications and surveillance
- Assist search and rescue operations
- Document jobsite conditions from beginning to end.
- Increase the scope and frequency of inspections.
